Allowable Subject Matter

1. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

Regarding claims 1-6, the prior art of the record fails to teach or suggest an ATM (Asynchronous Transfer Mode) switching system for connecting a plurality of subscriber's terminal units with a switching network by the use of an ATM switch operated in ATM comprising a call signal processing section provided to "use said updated reserved connection information which has been stored in said reserved connection memory to control said ATM switch in the case where there was a call from any of said subscriber terminal units when the request for connection is the same as the reserved connection information which has been updated and stored in said reserved connection memory," in combination with other limitations, as specified in the independent claim 1.

Regarding claims 7-13, the prior art of the record fails to teach or suggest a method performed within an ATM (Asynchronous Transfer Mode) switching system for connecting a plurality of subscriber terminal units with a switching network via an ATM switch, comprising "using the updated reserved connection information which has been stored in the reserved connection memory to control the ATM switch in the case where there was a call from any of the subscriber terminal units when the request for connection is the same as reserved connection information which has been updated and stored in the reserved connection memory," in combination with other limitations, as specified in the independent claim 7.

Art Unit: 2665

Regarding claim 14, the prior art of the record fails to teach or suggest a system with an ATM (Asynchronous Transfer Mode) switching system for connecting a plurality of subscriber terminal units with a switching network via an ATM switch, comprising "means for using the updated reserved connection information which has been stored in the reserved connection memory to control the ATM switch in the case where there was a call from any of the subscriber terminal units when the request for the connection is the same as the reserved connection information which has been updated and stored in the reserved connection memory," in combination with other limitations, as specified in the independent claim 14.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
